PURCHASE OF CITY AUTO CONSIDERED

Machine or General Utility Purposes for All Departments Said To Be Needed.

COUNCIL COMMITTEE NAMED

Park Funds Now Held in City Treasury To Be Turned Over to the Citizens' Park Committee.

The need of a general utility automobile for use by all departments of the city government was discussed at the regular session of the city council Wednesday night. Councilman Hoadley presented the matter and said that he believed that an automobile would pay for itself in two years' time. He said that the two night policemen were unable to record all the street electric light outage and that with a machine they could make several trips over the city each night.

Hoadley said that the money that is now paid for the transfer of prisoners to Brownstown could be saved if the city owned an automobile as the local police could make the trips themselves in much less time. He said that he had no recommendations to make as to whether it would be advisable to buy a touring car or a truck as there were arguments in favor of both but he thought that whatever machine is purchased should be strongly but lightly made so that the expense of upkeep and maintenance would be low. He said that it had been proposed that a truck be purchased and it could be used to haul a few sections of hose or several ladders in case of an emergency fire call. The machine would also be serviceable to the sanitary officer in making his inspections, it was pointed out. It was stated that the duties of the sanitary officer are numerous and it is impossible for him to answer all the calls that are sent in promptly unless he is provided with some kind of transportation facilities.

Goss said that he had been con-

GOLD MINE IS READY FOR SPRING OPENING

Newest Models of Spring's Ready-to-Wear and Millinery Are on Display at Local Store.

The Gold Mine department store has won an enviable reputation for its season's openings but the spring display of ladies' ready-to-wear and millinery is one of the most attractive that has ever been shown at the local store. Many of the selections were made personally by Nathan Kaufman in the exclusive markets of the east and were shipped direct to this city. The management of the store announces that the opening will be conducted during the latter part of this week and it affords an opportunity for making selections from the most attractive models to be found.

The Gold Mine takes especial pride in the lines that are shown in its store, especially at the formal openings of each season. No expense is spared in making the selections for display here and in this way local people are given the same buying advantages that are found only in the larger cities. For the spring opening the display windows have been artistically arranged and the interior of the store beautifully decorated.

INSPECTION IS MADE OF SEYMOUR COMMANDERY K. T.

Banquet Served to Knights at 6:30 O'clock by the Ladies of the Eastern Star.

Seymour Commandery, Knights Templar, held an enjoyable meeting last night at which time Grand Warder Schoonover, of the Grand Commandery, made an inspection of the work. The order of the Temple was conferred. Visitors from Scottsburg, North Vernon and other towns in this vicinity were in attendance.

At 6:30 o'clock a banquet was served in the banquet room of the Masonic Temple by the ladies of the Eastern Star for the members of the Commandery. After the supper the degree work was given. During the evening a social hour was enjoyed in which a number of addresses were given.

SCHOOL COUNT IN CITY IS STARTED

W. A. Carter and Carl C. Sumner Are Appointed by School Board to Take the Enumeration.

PUBLIC CO-OPERATION ASKED

City School Corporation to Receive $5 from State Fund for Each Person That is Listed.

W. A. Carter and Carl C. Sumner, who were appointed by the school board to take the school enumeration in this city, started work this morning. Under the state law they are given until May 1st. to complete the task. All persons between the ages of six and twenty-one years are to be listed by the enumerators and the public is asked to co-operate with them so that there will be no omissions in the final reports.

The reason for taking the census of persons of school age is that it is upon these reports that the distribution of school funds is made. It is emphasized that the funds are already available and if any children are not listed the school corporation in Seymour loses the amount that ought to come here. Upon the basis of distribution approximately $5 is given to each school corporation annually for each person of school age enumerated. It is obvious, therefore, that if there are many omissions in the report of the enumerators the loss to the city would be considerable. The settlements are made semi-annually and $2.50 is paid for each person listed at each settlement. The money comes from interest on funds already

RED CROSS TRYING TO LOCATE "BILLY" HAYES

Local Chapter Asked to Assist in Finding Soldier Who Deserted Wife.

T. M. Honan, chairman of the local Red Cross received a letter this morning from the chairman of the Red Cross chapter of Keller, Va., inquiring if there was a man living in this community by the name of "Billy" Hayes. The letter stated that while Hayes was in the U. S. army he had married a girl residing in that city and had left her about a year ago without sufficient support.

So far as is known Hayes does not live in this city. The letter asked that the Chairman of the Keller, Va., Red Cross be notified in case the person wanted could be located here.

New Restaurant Open.

The Eagle restaurant of which Arman and Zorbas are the proprietors, was opened for business this morning and has enjoyed a good trade throughout the day. The restaurant is furnished with new equipment throughout and presents an attractive appearance. The white tops of the tables and chairs are in marked contrast to the woodwork which is finished in mahogany. An opening was held last night and a large number of local people inspected the new eating house.

HINES TO DECIDE STREET QUESTION

Opening of Elnora Street Brought to The Attention of The Railroad Administration.

HITCH IN THE PROCEEDINGS

Council Has Complied With All Regulations But The Government May Want to be Heard.

Walker D. Hines, director-general of the United States railroad administration, has been asked to kindly give his consent to the extension of Elnora Street in this city. If Mr. Hines informs the local council that he has no objection to the proceedings, the fences will be moved back and traffic will be permitted over the new street between Walnut and Chestnut streets, but if for any reason he does not want the fences changed the city of Seymour may have to sit by quietly and wait for the aforesaid Mr. Hines to change his mind or be relieved of his official duties in connection with the railway systems of the United States of America.

It is not expected that Mr. Hines will make a quick trip to Seymour for the purpose of personally inspecting the proposed street extension, but will likely permit one of his subordinates to give a decision. However, no effort will be made to open the streets until word comes, directly or indirectly, from the director-general.

The matter of opening Elnora street has been before the present

TRUSTEES DO NOT LIKE THE CHANGE MORE INDICTMENTS FOR LOCAL PEOPLE

Insist That if They Are to Look After Roads, They Ought To Be Given Supervision of Funds.

HENDREN GIVES SUGGESTION ALL RELEASED ON BOND

County Commissioners Have Taken No Action As to The Appointment of Road Supervisors.

The majority of the township trustees in Jackson county maintain an antagonistic attitude towards the recent ruling of the attorney-general of Indiana that the last legislature took the control of unimproved roads out of the hands of the trustees and placed them under the supervision of the county commissioners. One trustee said that he did not object to supervising the road repairs in his township but felt that if the legislature did not think he was capable of handling the road funds he did not believe he ought to be held responsible for them.

The situation which exists throughout the state is the result of the road law "mess" which has not been fully explained. The attorney-general tried to clear up some of the points of difference but his opinions only made matters worse. The township trustees have always

HEAVY DEATH TOLL IN TEXAS CYCLONE

One Hundred Known to Be Dead. Several Hundred Injured With Enormous Property Loss.

WRECKAGE IN OIL FIELDS

Suffering of Homeless Increased By Sudden Drop in Temperature With Snow Flurries.

By United Press.

Dallas, Tex., April 10—Nearly one hundred dead, several hundred injured with property loss estimated at several million of dollars was the toll taken in Wednesday morning's storm in northern Texas and southern Oklahoma, according to information gathered today. The known dead list totaled ninety-seven at the last tabulation. Indications were this will be increased with further reports.

Damage to crops probably will run into millions as the principal products raised in Texas were at the stage most easily affected by heavy wind and rain.

The oil fields of Wichita county and of southern Oklahoma alone suffered hundreds of thousands of dollars damage in wrecked oil rigs and machinery.

Rescue and relief work continued all last night. According to dispatches from all parts of the storm stricken districts today thousands are homeless. To add to the misery of the suffering the temperature

WANT LLOYD GEORGE TO STATE HIS RUSSIAN POLICY

Parliament Members Urge British Delegates to Oppose Bolshevik Recognition.

By United Press.

London, April 10—The conservatives in the British parliament show a tendency to demand a show down from Premier Lloyd George on Great Britain's Russian policy. Following an extended debate on the Russian problem in the house of parliament last night two hundred members sent the following message to the premier: "We learn with grave concern that there is a proposal before the peace conference to recognize the bolsheviks. We urge the British delegates not to agree to such recognition."

This attitude is taken as indicating that a governmental crisis may develop.

NEW ROAD LAWS MAY BE REQUIRED

Governor Goodrich Announces He is Considering Calling Legislature for Special Session.

TO UNRAVEL BAD TANGLE

Amendments Passed by Last Legislature Were Overlooked by The Enrolling Clerks.

By United Press.

Indianapolis, April 10—A special session of the legislature probably will be called to straighten out the tangle of the county unit road law, Governor James P. Goodrich announced this afternoon. He said he was not sure he would issue the call, but would know in a short time. The governor was in conference with Lieutenant Governor Bush and Jesse Eschbach, speaker of the house, regarding the law, which was enacted at the recent general assembly.

Several amendments adopted by both houses of the general assembly were omitted in the enrolling room during the rush of the final hours of the session. One provided that the township trustees shall retain supervision of the township roads. As the law now stands the trustees are paid for this work while the work itself devolves upon the county commissioners. There are several other defects in the law it was said.

The law creates county units of taxation for road improvements and abolishes the old system of township units. Several petitions for road bond construction have already been filed under the new act.

An unofficial opinion given by Attorney General Stansbury stated that the law would have to stand in its present form, unless changed by the legislature.

TWENTY BILLION BI-PROFIT FOR THE AMERICAN FARMER

Estimate of Increase in Price of Land Based on Agricultural Department Reports.

By United Press.

Washington, April 10—A bi-profit of $20,000,000,000 is one of the benefits accruing to the American farmer from his bumper war crops. Based on reports of the department of agriculture, this sum is the estimated increase in the value of lands owned by American farmers. The reports showed plowed land had increased in value 71 per cent since 1910, most of the increase having been made during the war years.

Another bi-profit that grew up for the farmer is an estimated increase of nearly four billion dollars in the value of his buildings.

Land and buildings that earn increased incomes are worth more money, officials said, explaining the increased value.

The two bi-profits are in addition to the twenty-one billions to which the value of all farm products jumped in 1918. They help explain why many farmers have been riding in automobiles and why more are expected to buy them this year. They mean more and easier credit for farmers at the banks and far more money if they decide to sell.

FOURTEEN POINTS REVIEWED AGAIN

Some of the Allies Favor Principles But Do Not Want Them Applied Individually.

SECRET TREATIES INTERFERE

Greece Stands on "The London Pact" in Settlement of Adriatic Claims—Wilson Stands Firm.

By United Press.

Paris, April 10—Although an agreement has been reached on reparations and responsibility for the war, the peace conference is not yet "out of the woods" in regard to the secret treaties entered into by the allied before American intervention, it was learned today.

Reference to the conference being "agreed on the principal points with only the details to be settled," means in one sense that a "show down" on the London pact is yet to come. The suggestions from high quarters that the delegates again "look over" the fourteen points is also accepted as a reminder that President Wilson is standing just as firmly on the principles laid down in the armistice terms as at the start of the conference. Those terms recognize no secret treaties.

When Greece's claims were being discussed by the British, French and Italian representatives, this committee held it was not competent to discuss certain points as their governments were bound by the London pact regarding those questions. This situation has not yet been brought to the attention of the "big four."

The Adriatic question also has lain dormant. There has been continued efforts to arrange a possible agreement through individual conference, but it is understood Italy is standing by the London pact in this matter also. The situation briefly is that while all the allies indorse cer-

NEW STORE IS OPENED IN THE VEHSLAGE BUILDING

Ben Snyder to Conduct a General Merchandise Business on West Second Street.

Ben Snyder's department store which is located in the Vehslage building, West Second street, was opened for business today. The proprietor conducts a store in Louisville and also in several places in the south. He expects to give part of his attention to the local business, but Mr. Saper will be the active manager of the new store.

The room has been arranged in a convenient manner for the new business and the several departments are located separately. A stock of dry goods is carried and one department is given over to ladies' and children's wear. Another section of the store is stocked with men's wear while many miscellaneous items are also found on the shelves.

Mr. Snyder is well pleased with the business on the first day and stated that the stock will be enlarged from time to time as his orders are filled by the manufacturers and jobbers.

ALLIES PREPARED TO RESIST BOLSHEVIKI OFFENSIVE

Details of Defense Against Threatened Thrust are Not Divulged—Troops in Russia.

By United Press.

Washington April 10—If the bolsheviks launch their threatened spring offensive they will be able to throw a force of 800,000 troops against the allies, according to dependable estimates here. Original plans laid some time ago by the bolshevik military leaders calling for an army of 1,250,000 by April 1 have failed to materialize.

Details of allied plans for meeting the promised offensive cannot be revealed at this time, but it can be said that they will not necessitate the holding of the present American troops in northern Russia longer than spring, unless unexpected developments occur.

Removal Notice.

VALUE OF THRIFT

Senator Francis E. Warren, of Wyoming, points out in a forceful manner why the people of the United States ought to invest their earnings in government securities. During the war many people invested in Liberty bonds without a thought of returns. Now that the war is over and they have begun to cash in their interest coupons they are realizing that the investment was not only valuable from the patriotic standpoint but from the business standpoint as well.

Senator Warren emphasizes the value of these investments with the following pointed statement:

"Aside from the benefits derived by the Government through the sale of War Savings and Thrift Stamps, saving through lending to the government is a concrete form of practical, constructive citizenship. When America entered the War there were only about 50,000 holders of Government securities and today there are over 30,000,000. Thus the lessons of thrift and the realization of how saving aids the small investor, the salary owner and every-day citizen in forging ahead has multiplied the number of security holders by six hundred, and in the short period spanned by a period of time of less than two years. At the outset of the war we were recognized as an extravagant people, and now those who are able to read the signs of the times declare that American citizens are beginning to follow in the footsteps of the French, the thriftiest of races. By purchasing those Government securities we become co-partners with the Government, we are assisting concretely in making to function the great and complex organism of Government.

"These reasons why we should have and invest in Government securities are motives of everyday patriotism. When we lend the Government our savings by purchasing

LONG-WEARING SOLES
MEAN LOW SHOE BILLS

"I have never been able to get half the service from other soles that I get from Neolin Soles," says H. H. Shellenberger, a traveling salesman of Easton, Pa.

Long service from the soles means lowered shoe costs, for that is where shoes wear out quickest. When next you need new shoes buy them with Neolin Soles. You pay no more than for shoes that give less wear—and you can get them in many styles for men, women, and children.

Have these durable, comfortable and waterproof soles put on your old shoes, too. All good repair shops carry them. They are made, scientifically, by The Goodyear Tire & Rubber Co., Akron, Ohio, who also make Wingfoot Heels, guaranteed to outwear all other heels.

Neolin Soles

War Savings and Thrift Stamps we are aiding in creating a citizenship, a body of active citizens less susceptible to pernicious influences because they have a tangible share in running the machinery of Government. This thrifty habit stimulates a desire for knowledge of the operations of the Government, and makes for a more intelligent and enlightened citizenship.

"There is no more powerful agency for the Americanization of the foreign born for it tends to obliterate the obnoxious hyphen."

DOUBLE QUILTING PARTY.

Mrs. Louis Mascher, who resides three miles south of Seymour, entertained with a double quilting party yesterday, in honor of Miss Lottie Mascher, whose marriage to Elmer Smith, Indianapolis, will take place this month. The day was spent with music and quilting and an elaborate supper was served. Two quilts were made.

Those present were Mrs. Ed Otting, and daughters, Mrs. Fred Thias, Miss Mayme Roeder, Mrs. Lawrence Thias, Mrs. George Windhorst, and daughters, Mrs. Henry Roeder, Mrs. Louise Critcher, Mrs. Mary Roeder, Mrs. Edward Kasting, Mrs. Bert Kasting, Mrs. Mascher and Miss Lottie Mascher.

CHARIVARI.

A charivari was given Wednesday evening for Mr. and Mrs. Walter Lunte at their home on South Chestnut street. Mr. and Mrs. Lunte were married about a month ago at Terre Haute and have recently gone to housekeeping. The members of the charivari party were invited into the house and the evening was spent with various indoor and outdoor games, and Victrola music. Refreshments of ice cream, cake, punch and cigars were served. About sixty were present.

POUND PARTY

The Ladies' Aid Society of the Lutheran church, Vallonia, gave a pound party yesterday afternoon at the home of Mrs. H. C. Mueller. The affair was arranged as a complete surprise to Mrs. Mueller. A supper was served during the evening.

Another "John Doe."

A man giving his name as "John Doe" was arrested by the police last night charged with public intoxication. After sobering up he left $11 with the officers and empowered them to enter a plea of guilty for intoxication for him in city court.

Miss Bertha Werning left this morning for Nashville, Tenn., where she has accepted a position in the St. Thomas Hospital. She was accompanied by B. C. Werning, of Indianapolis.

Indigestion, Gas and Bloat From Acid-Stomach

An acid-stomach cannot digest food properly. Instead, the food sours and ferments and, passing into the intestines, becomes a breeding place for countless millions of deadly germs—toxic poisons they are called. These poisons are absorbed into the system and cause untold misery. So, you see, it is just acid-stomach, nothing else—that makes so many people weak, listless and unfit; saps their strength and energy; robs them of their vigor and vitality. Biliousness, bad liver, nervousness, blinding, splitting headaches, rheumatism, lumbago, sciatica—these and many other still more serious ailments often are traced to the common source—an acid-stomach.

Take EATONIC and get rid quickly of the pains of indigestion, heartburn, that horrible, lumpy, bloated feeling after eating; disgusting, belching, food-repeating; sour, gassy stomach. These stomach miseries are caused by what doctors call "Hyperacidity." It's just ACID-STOMACH. And in addition to the pains and miseries it causes, ACID-STOMACH is the starter of a long train of ailments that most people never dreamed are in any way connected with the stomach.

Pleasant tasting EATONIC TABLETS that you eat like a bit of candy, quickly put an end to your stomach troubles. They act as an absorbent—literally wipe up the excess hurtful acid and make the stomach pure, sweet and strong. Help digestion so that you get all the power and energy from your food. You cannot be well without it!

If you are one of those who have "tried everything" but in spite of it still suffer all kinds of acid-stomach miseries—if you lack physical and mental strength and vigor—begin at once to take EATONIC. Get back your physical and mental punch and enjoy the good things of life. Like thousands of others you will say you never dreamed that such amazingly quick relief and such a remarkable improvement in your general health was possible.

Your druggist has EATONIC. We authorize him to guarantee it to give you instant relief or refund your money. Get a big box of EATONIC today, it costs but little and the results are wonderful!

What The One Is Doing— The Other Should Do—And More

Officers and Directors Of The Two Companies Largely The Same

Get this straight—there are two companies! The one is the Kentucky Mansfield Lead and Zinc Syndicate, and the other is the Louisville Mansfield Lead and Zinc Company. It is the success of the former that has led to the organization of the latter—to do just what the former is already doing but on a larger scale. The officers and directors of the two companies are very largely the same.

It Is The Record Of The One That Makes The Other So Promising

The Kentucky Mansfield Lead and Zinc Syndicate is already in operation and is already paying dividends. It paid a monthly dividend of 2% in January, 3% in February and dividend checks of 3% are now going out for March. The Louisville Mansfield Lead and Zinc Company's holdings are in the same territory, are larger, will be operated in the same manner and should pay even larger dividends.

Certificate of Assay

"The entire sample used for assay. Fairly soft native rock and an easy milling ore, breaking clean which should give a high recovery. Sample accompanied by affidavit as to sample."

The above report was made by W. P. Taylor, the chemist, from samples taken by J. R. Sandage in the presence of Mr. C. O. Storm, Mrs. J. S. Long and Mrs.
J. H. Havens, who swear to the taking of these samples on the property of the Mansfield Mining and Developing Company, before Joseph R. Pile, a Notary Public, of Joplin, Missouri.

The Louisville Mansfield Lead and Zinc Company is capitalized at $500,- 000.00—at $1.00 a share, fully paid up and non-assessable. A very large part of this has already been subscribed—indeed, the company is fully organized and is already sinking the first shaft for the first mill on one of the four tracts (of 40 acres each) on which it holds the leases.

These holdings of the Louisville Mansfield Lead and Zinc Company are at Mansfield, Missouri, where the Mother Lode of the famous Ozark district comes nearest the surface. The 40-acre tract on which the sinking of the first shaft has already begun is immediately adjoining that of the Kentucky Mansfield Lead and Zinc Syndicate.

The World's Greatest Speed Record is Held by a Hot Spot Chalmers

LITTLE has been said by us about this record; and it was made back in the summer of 1917. It was not our policy to engage in speed contests, as we felt something more than speed was sought by the average buyer.

This record was 1898 miles in 24 hours—the farthest distance man has ever traveled on land, sea or air in twice-around-the-clock.

A notable car but a short time before had made the envious distance of 1819 miles in 24 hours on the same track.

Just about this time Chalmers engineers were satisfied they had developed two great devices in Hot Spot and Ram's-horn. They wanted to get a quick answer. They sought the laboratory of the racetrack, where in 24 hours the gruelling of 50,000 ordinary driving miles might be interpreted.

How well Hot Spot and Ram's-horn delivered is a matter of official A. A. A. records.

This remarkable test, as well as extended road tests, resulted in equipping Chalmers cars with Hot Spot and Ram's-horn; and now 12,000 persons driving the new Chalmers car will tell you they own one of the few great cars of the world.

SCHOOL COUNT IN CITY IS STARTED

invested by the state school department.

Complete instructions as to the manner of taking the census were given to the enumerators by Superintendent T. A. Mott before they started work. They were told to list every unmarried person between the ages of six and twenty-one years who claims Seymour as their home. Enumerators will also be employed in each township in the county and they will work under the supervision of the township trustees. The basis of distribution for the township is the same as for the city.

The enumeration blanks used this

LUNGS GREW WORSE IN STATE HOSPITAL

Mr. Randall promptly got well at home. Passes strict examination.

"Three years ago I was afflicted with tuberculosis of the lungs. I was finally sent to the State Tuberculosis Hospital at Rockville, Ind., where I remained three months, getting worse all the time, and I persuaded the doctors to let me go home. I was then reduced to 122 pounds, had fever all the time, and was very weak.

"As soon as I got home, I started taking Milks Emulsion. I commenced to improve at once. In a few months, I was back to 180 pounds and had completely regained my health. Since then I have been employed by Valentine & Co., meat packers, and am able to pass the strict medical examination necessary in this line of work, showing I am in perfect health."—Sam Randall, 521 So. 17th St., Terre Haute, Ind.

Hundreds of people just as badly afflicted as Mr. Randall was, tell this same story. Why not try it? If you are not satisfied with the benefit, it costs you nothing.

Milks Emulsion is a pleasant, nutritive food and a corrective medicine. It restores healthy, natural bowel action, doing away with all need of pills and physics. It promotes appetite and quickly puts the digestive organs in shape to assimilate food. As a builder of flesh and strength, Milks Emulsion is strongly recommended to run-down nervous people, and it has produced amazing results in many cases of tuberculosis of the lungs. Chronic stomach trouble and constipation are promptly relieved—usually in one day. It works like magic on coughs and colds.

This is the only cod emulsion made, and so palatable that it is eaten with a spoon like ice cream. A truly wonderful medicine for weak, sickly children.

No matter how severe your case, you are urged to try Milks Emulsion under this guarantee—Take six bottles home with you, use it according to directions, and if not satisfied with the results, your money will be promptly refunded. Price 60c and $1.20 per bottle. The Milks Emulsion Co., Terre Haute, Ind. Sold and guaranteed by C. E. Loertz.

year are slightly different from those used in the past. Heretofore space has been provided for the enumeration for only the current year, but this time two spaces are provided. In one the enumeration for 1919 will be recorded. Another blank space for next year is also arranged on the enumeration sheet. The same blanks will be used in 1920 and in this way the enumerators will have a check against the report filed for this year. Frequently this is helpful in getting complete returns as some parents and guardians overlook persons who ought to be listed but are not attending school at the time the enumeration is taken.

In addition to taking the census of persons of school age, all soldiers, sailors and marines who have participated in any war in which the United States has engaged will also be listed. A special book has been prepared for this report. Important facts regarding the period of enlistment will be tabulated.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Leslie, of Indianapolis, who were here to attend the funeral of Clint Leslie Tuesday, returned to their home Wednesday afternoon.

MRS. JOHN F. WARD DEAD

Mother of Mrs. R. J. Connelley Stricken with Paralysis.

Mrs. Priscilla M. Ward, mother of Mrs. R. J. Connelley, formerly of Seymour, died Wednesday at her home in Washington following a stroke of paralysis suffered several months ago. Her condition had been critical for several weeks. She was the wife of John F. Ward.

Mrs. Ward was born near Glendale, June 28, 1852, and was a daughter of Reason and Caroline Chapman. She had lived practically all of her life in and near Washington. She is survived by eight children, S. A. Ward, Mrs. Will Young, Mrs. Ed Smith and Mrs. Ray Smith, all of Washington, Mrs. William Yeager, of Graysville, Mrs. R. J. Connelley, formerly of this city, and Mrs. Walter Hayes, of Twin Falls, Idaho, and Oswald Ward of Daviess county. Two brothers, Elijah and William Chapman, and a half-sister, Mrs. Fennick Thomas, of Washington, also survive.

Funeral services will be conducted at 2 o'clock Friday afternoon at the Presbyterian church followed by burial at the Oak Grove cemetery.

SPECIAL MISSIONARY MEETING

Nazarene Church Will Hear An Armenian Missionary.

A missionary meeting of great importance and value is to be held tomorrow night (Friday) at the Nazarene Church. The church is especially favored in having Samuel C. Krikorian an Armenian, a refugee who escaped from one of the massacres in Armenia. He is a nephew of Miss Rebecca Krikorian, a daughter of the oldest evangelical minister of Armenia and Turkey.

Mr. Krikorian is soon to go as a missionary to Jerusalem under auspices of the Pentecostal Church of the Nazarene. He is a thrilling speaker and his missionaries gatherings across the country have been attended by spiritual profit and missionary enthusiasm. The public is cordially invited to hear this interesting Armenian speaker bring his message.

Evangelistic Service.

At the A. M. E. Church, corner Tipton and Lynn streets still goes on. Evangelist Mrs. W. C. Clark who spent yesterday and last night at Bloomington visiting her children, has returned to Seymour and will preach tonight and every night this week. Since Sunday 20 have been at the altar. Services each evening at 8 p. m. Come and bring some one.

Removal Notice.

I have moved my office from the Postal Building to the Hancock Building opposite the Postoffice and will continue my practice in diseases of the eye, ear, nose and throat and fitting glasses.

MORE RED BLOOD AND STEADIER NERVES FOR RUN DOWN PEOPLE

The World Demands, Strong, Vigorous, Keen-Minded, Men and Women

It has been said of Americans that they work their habits over-time.

Many become nervous and inefficient by overwork.

By worry, despondency, social affairs, robbing brain and body of needed rest; excessive use of tobacco, indulgence in strong alcoholic drink—excesses of every kind that burn up the vital powers so necessary in these trying times to make both men and women fit to be of help to themselves and others.

It is time to be temperate in all things. The man or woman with impaired nerves caused by impoverished blood lacks vigor, the ambition, the endurance and the keen mind of those who avoid excesses.

Timidity, despondency, fear, trembling hands, want of confidence and even cowardliness, are due in a large measure to abused nerves.

People with plenty of red blood corpuscles and strong, healthy nerves have no desire to shirk work and lean on others for guidance and support.

There is hardly a nerve-shattered man or woman (unless of an organic disease) in America today who cannot become alert and clear in mind; vigorous and energetic in body in a very few weeks and at trifling cost.

To become strong and ambitious, to feel that work is not drudgery; to have steady nerves, abundance of red blood and power of endurance; to be not only a man but as men now do, a superman, you must take seven tablets of Bio-feren every day for seven days—and take them faithfully.

Take two after each meal and one at bedtime and after seven days take one only after meal until the supply is exhausted.

Then if you feel that any claim made in this special notice is untrue—if your nerves are not twice as steady as before; if you do not feel ambitious, more vigorous and keen-minded, the pharmacist who dispensed the tablets to you will gladly hand you back just what you paid for them.

Bio-feren is without doubt the grandest remedy for nervous, rundown, weak, anemic men and women ever offered direct through druggists and is not at all expensive. All druggists in this city and vicinity have a supply on hand—sell many packages.

FOR SERGEANT SUTTON.

When Sgt. T. H. Sutton of the 93rd Aerial Squadron returned home from France, where he spent seventeen months in the service of Uncle Sam he was greatly surprised to find a hundred of his relatives and friends awaiting his arrival with a thirty-foot table loaded with an abundance of food of which it is needless to say he partook, none of which tasted as good as the biscuits which his mother had not forgotten to prepare, and it was the first he had tasted since he enlisted Aug. 7, 1917.

He looks hale and hearty and escaped luckily except for an accidental shell burst wounding his hand, from which he recovered rapidly.

Sutton brought a number of souvenirs, the most interesting of them being a German rifle taken in the Argonne forest. Sergt. Sutton's home is at Kurtz.

Those from a distance who attended the home coming were Miss Nova Smith of Indianapolis; Mrs. C. E. Bruce and son, Bernard of Connersville; Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Butler and children of Honeytown; Mr. and Mrs. Walter Sutton and daughter, Jewel, Mr. and Mrs. Ezra Sutton of Bedford; Mr. and Mrs. T. R. Brown and children and niece, Miss Ona Butler of Seymour.—Contributed.

W. C. T. U.

The W. C. T. U. met at the home of Mrs. J. F. Severinghaus Wednesday afternoon with a good attendance. Mrs. M. C. Carpenter led the devotions. Prayer was offered by Rev. Severinghaus. During the business session the million dollar drive which is on was discussed and great interest was shown. Mrs. Sophia Schneck favored the union with two beautiful readings. Rev. Severinghaus gave the address of the afternoon, his subject being, "Prohibition's Advance in Medical and Scientific Fields." His talk was both instructive and interesting and was greatly appreciated by those who were fortunate enough to be present. Two new honorary members were enrolled.

PARIS-BROOKS

Miss Hulda Paris, of this city, and Elmer Brooks, of Camp Upton, N. Y. were married this morning at 10 o'clock at the county clerk's office, by Rev. R. I. Black, pastor of the Brownstown Methodist church. Mr. and Mrs. Henry Paris, of this city, motored to Brownstown and were present at the wedding.

ALL DAY MEETING

An all day meeting of the Ladies' Aid Society of the Christian church, Reddington, was held today at the church. A basket dinner was served at noon.

YOUNG LADIES' SOCIETY

About thirty members of the Young Ladies Society of the Lutheran church were present at a meeting held Wednesday evening at the club house, on West Oak street. Following the regular business meeting refreshments were served.

The schedule of meetings for the coming week is being worked out and the speakers are being assigned. Meetings will be held in Hamilton township tomorrow night.

Child Hit by Auto.

The following article is taken from the Columbus Republican, relative to the little daughter of Mrs. Edna Hughes, Dayton, Ohio. Mrs. Hughes is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Allan Swope, of this city.

An Overland touring car driven by Mrs. Mary Whipker, skidded ten feet with all brakes down, yesterday afternoon about 1 o'clock just in time to prevent running down and perhaps fatally injuring Edna Louise Hughes, the three year old granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Hughes, while she was playing in the street directly in front of her grandparents' home on Franklin street. Mrs. Whipker was driving north on Franklin street just as the little girl, who had been running back and forth across the street in frolic, unconsciously ran before the oncoming machine. Mrs. Whipker saw the child's critical position and put on all brakes so suddenly that the machine skidded ten feet and was virtually stopped when it struck the child. The right fender pushed the little girl over and she rolled under the car near the rear wheel. Her shoulders were slightly scratched but otherwise she was uninjured. A physician was immediately called. He pronounced the child only slightly hurt but much frightened. Later she climbed into the automobile and was taken for a little "spin."

Captain and Mrs. John Kirk passed through here this morning enroute from Anderson to New Albany, where they visited relatives. Captain Kirk, who has been overseas for several months, recently received his discharge from service at Camp Stuart. Mrs. Kirk was formerly Miss Ruth Schrader, of New Albany.

tain principles, it is a different story when these principles are applied individually.

Observers seeking to interpret the "big four's" decision that the former kaiser should be "brought under allied control" profess to see in this his trial by a special international tribunal and possibly banishment from Europe. The only definite thing regarding Wilhelm, however, appeared to be that he is not in danger of capital punishment.

In regard to reparation, the decision ion that Germany must pay an initial installment of $5,000,000,000 within two years, with an undetermined balance to be fixed by a permanent financial committee was regarded as a compromise that would satisfy all the associated powers.

The league of nations commission will meet tonight to receive the redraft of the covenant. It will also hear a delegation of women who wish to present a number of recommendations that can be discussed when the constitution comes up for open debate.

The Demand for Automobiles Is Greater Than the Supply

This can mean but one thing—a shortage later in the season. The manufacturers are unable to deliver automobiles to us as rapidly as we order them. A delayed order now may mean that you will not get your automobile this season, or until very late. You would thus lose the pleasure of the spring and early summer riding.

We have a number of models in our salesroom and we will gladly demonstrate them.

turned by the grand jury eleven have been served so far. However, it will be a great relief to those in this city who might feel a little uneasy to know that all arrests to be made in this city have been completed according to Sheriff McCord. It was the general opinion when the announcement of the large number of indictments returned by the grand jury was made public that a large per cent. of them would be against local people, as many were called from this city to testify while it was in session.

Sheriff McCord expects to serve the remaining indictments within the next week. His work will take him to practically every town or locality in the county.

PURCHASE OF CITY AUTO CONSIDERED

sidering the matter of purchasing an automobile and favored the plan. Buse also expressed a favorable opinion. It was said that the machine would be available to the police at all hours of the night and day so that calls could be answered without delay.

On motion of Hoadley a committee was appointed by the mayor to investigate the purchase of the car and report to the board of works at its next meeting. Mayor Burkart appointed Hoadley, Goss and Buse as members of the committee.

The matter of oiling the streets was presented by the mayor. He said that many residents had made inquiry about the oil and that he had secured figures on a large tank which would cost from forty to fifty percent. more than two years ago. Hoadley and Goss thought that the demand for the oil was general enough to justify the ordering of the tank. It was voted to have the city street department apply the oil on the same plan that has been followed in the past. Whether or not the oil will be purchased will depend upon the number of residents petitioning for it. Goss said that the residents on Vine street were strongly in favor of oiling that street which is improved with macadam and can not be sprinkled as it would wear away too rapidly.

Buse, chairman of the board of safety, reported that the roots of trees had grown under the sidewalks in many places in the city and it was voted to have the policemen on duty during the day make an inspection of the city and personally notify property owners when repairs were needed.

Goodale submitted a communication from the citizens' park committee, which was signed by W. L. John-

In The Spring-Time.

Any fool knows enough to carry an umbrella when it rains, but the wise man is he who carries one when it is only cloudy. Any man will send for a doctor when he gets bedfast, but the wiser one is he who adopts proper measures before his ills become serious. During a hard winter or the following spring one feels rundown, tired out, weak and nervous. Probably you have suffered from colds or influenza which has left you thin, weak and pale. This is the time to put your system in order. It is time for house-cleaning.

A good, old-fashioned alterative and temperance tonic is one made of wild roots and barks without the use of alcohol, and called Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, in tablet or liquid form. This is nature's tonic, which restores the tone of the stomach, activity of the liver and steadiness to the nerves, strengthening the whole system.

Indianapolis, Ind.—"I am most pleased to say for 'Golden Medical Discovery' that I like it as a spring medicine. I was employed in a cloak house and used it for a toning-up medicine. As a general tonic I know of nothing better. You may use this recommendation to benefit others."—Mrs. G. F. Goss, 723 Elm St.

son, secretary, stating that the organization had been effected and recommended that the funds belonging to the park be turned over to it so that work could be ordered without further delay. On motion of Goodale, chairman of the park committee, the treasurer was ordered to turn over the funds of that department to the committee which will make reports of expenditures semi-annually.

G. F. Pomeroy, concrete contractor, was given the contract of building an alley intersection and gutter on Third street between Walnut and Poplar where improvements are already being made.

Goss reported that some of the alleys are in bad condition and recommended that they be cleaned up.

Collins called the attention of the council to the condition of the Ewing street road on the east side of the City cemetery. Goodale moved that the roadway be repaired by filling in the holes with cinders but Collins believed that they would wear out too soon under the heavy traffic over the road and recommended that the repair be made with gravel. Collins' motion was carried.

Emery reported that a guy wire to one of the new poles erected for the transmission system was an obstruction to the sidewalk at the corner of St. Louis and Indianapolis avenues, but it was stated that a box would be placed around the wire so that it would be plainly seen. The Interstate Company was instructed to box all of the stay lines that were put in to support the poles.

On motion of Goodale the clerk was instructed to notify the property owners at the following places to repair their sidewalks 505 North Bish street; 315 East Third street and Ewing street between Second and Third.

Stop Itching Skin

There is one safe, dependable treatment that relieves itching torture and skin irritation almost instantly and that cleanses and soothes the skin.

Ask any druggist for a 35c or $1 bottle of Zemo and apply it as directed. Soon you will find that irritations, pimples, blackheads, eczema, blotches, ringworm and similar skin troubles will disappear.

A little Zemo, the penetrating, satisfying liquid, is all that is needed, for it banishes most skin eruptions, makes the skin soft, smooth and healthy.

CHAPTER I.

The First Wayfarer and the Second Wayfarer Meet and Part on the Highway.

A solitary figure trudged along the narrow road that wound its serpentine way through the dismal, forbidding depths of the forest—a man who, though weary and footsore, lagged not in his swift, resolute advance. Night was coming on, and with it the no uncertain prospects of a storm.

He came to the "pike" and there was a signpost. A huge, crudely painted hand pointed to the left, and on what was intended to be the sleeve of a very stiff and unflinching arm these words were printed in scaly white: "Hart's Tavern. Food for Man and Beast. Also Gasoline. Established 1798. 1 Mile."

On the opposite side of the "pike," in the angle formed by a junction with the narrow mountain road, stood a humbler signpost, lettered so indistinctly that it deserved the compassion of all observers because of its humbleness. Swerving in his hurried passage, the tall stranger drew near this shrinking friend to the uncertain traveler, and was suddenly aware of another presence in the roadway.

A woman appeared, as if from nowhere, almost at his side. He drew back to let her pass. She stopped before the little signpost, and together they made out the faint directions.

To the right and up the mountain road Frog's Corner lay four miles and a half away; Pitcairn was six miles back over the road which the man had traveled. Two miles and a half down the turnpike was Spanish Falls, a railway station, and four miles above the crossroads where the man and woman stood peering through the darkness at the laconic signpost reposed the village of St. Elizabeth. Hart's Tavern was on the road to St. Elizabeth, and the man, with barely a glance at his fellow traveler, started briskly off in that direction.

He knew that these wild mountain storms moved swiftly; his chance of reaching the tavern ahead of the deluge was exceedingly slim. His long, powerful legs had carried him twenty or thirty paces before he came to a sudden halt.

What of this lone woman who traversed the highway? His first glimpse of her had been extremely casual—indeed, he had paid no attention to her at all, so eager was he to read the directions and be on his way.

She was standing quite still in front of the signpost, peering up the road toward Frog's Corner—confronted by a steep climb that led into black and sinister timberlands above the narrow strip of pasture bordering the pike.

The fierce wind pinned her skirts to her slender body as she leaned against the gale, gripping her hat tightly with one hand and straining under the weight of the bag in the other. The ends of a veil whipped furiously about her head, and, even in the gathering darkness, he could see a strand or two of hair keeping them company.

Retracing his steps, he called out to her above the gale:

"Can I be of any assistance to you?"

She turned quickly. He saw that the veil was drawn tightly over her face.

"No, thank you," she replied. Her voice, despite a certain nervous note, was soft and clear and gentle—the voice and speech of a well-bred person who was young and resolute.

"Pardon me, but have you much farther to go? The storm will soon be upon us, and—surely you will not consider me presumptuous—I don't like the idea of your being caught out in—"

"What is to be done about it?" she inquired, resignedly. "I must go on. I can't wait here, you know, to be washed back to the place I started from."

He smiled. She had wit as well as determination.

"If I can be of the least assistance to you pray don't hesitate to command me. I am a sort of tramp, you might say, and I travel as well by night as I do by day—so don't feel that you are putting me to any inconvenience. Are you by any chance bound for Hart's Tavern? If so, I will be glad to lag behind and carry your bag."

"You are very good, but I am not bound for Hart's Tavern, wherever that may be. Thank you, just the same. You appear to be an uncommonly genteel tramp, and it isn't because I am afraid you might make off with my belongings." She added the last by way of apology.

He smiled—and then frowned as he cast an uneasy look at the black clouds now rolling ominously up over the mountain ridge.

"By Jove, we're going to catch it good and hard," he exclaimed. "Better take my advice. These storms are terrible. I know, for I've encountered half a dozen of them in the past week. They fairly tear one to pieces. You are a stranger in these parts?"

"Yes. The railway station is a few miles below here. I have walked all the way. There was no one to meet me. You are a stranger also, so it is useless to inquire if you know whether this road leads to Green Fancy."

"Green Fancy? Sounds attractive. I'm sorry I can't enlighten you." He drew a small electric torch from his pocket and directed its slender ray upon the signpost.

"It is on the road to Frog's Corner," she explained nervously. "A mile and a half, so I am told. It isn't on the signpost. It is a house, not a village. Thank you for your kindness. And I am not at all frightened," she added, raising her voice slightly.

"But you are," he cried. "You're scared half out of your wits. You can't fool me. I'd be scared myself at the thought of venturing into those woods up yonder."

"Well, then, I am frightened," she confessed plaintively. "Almost out of my boots."

"That settles it," he said flatly. "You shall not undertake it."

"Oh, but I must. I am expected. It is important—"

"If you are expected why didn't someone meet you at the station? Seems to me—" "Hark! Do you hear—doesn't that sound like an automobile—ah!" The hoarse honk of an automobile horn rose above the howling wind, and an instant later two faint lights came rushing toward them around a bend in the mountain road. "Better late than never," she cried, her voice vibrant once more.

He grasped her arm and jerked her out of the path of the oncoming machine, whose driver was sending it along at a mad rate, regardless of ruts and stones and curves. The car careened as it swung into the pike, skidded alarmingly, and then the brakes were jammed down. Attended by a vast grinding of gears and wheels, the rattling old car came to a stop fifty feet or more beyond them.

"I'd sooner walk than take my chances in an antediluvian rattletrap like that," said the tall wayfarer, bending quite close to her ear. "It will fall to pieces before you—"

But she was running down the road toward the car, calling out sharply to the driver. He stooped over and took up the traveling bag she had dropped in her haste and excitement. It was heavy, amazingly heavy.

by local applications as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure Catarrhal Deafness, and that is by a constitutional remedy. HALL'S CATARRH MEDICINE acts through the Blood on the Mucous Surfaces of the System. Catarrhal Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result. Unless the inflammation can be reduced and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing may be destroyed forever. ## Training Little Children

By Carolyn Sherwin Bailey.

Suggestions by mothers who have been kindergartners. Issued by the United States Bureau of Education, Washington, D. C., and the National Kindergarten Association, 3 West Fortieth Street, New York.

The children whose homes have been touched by the world war have been called upon to make the supreme sacrifice of childhood, that of joy. If they are to be well and strong and efficient men and women they must be helped to find happiness in new values and new forms. Tell them stories that will help them to create their own joyousness in spite of economies and less play time.

The fairy tale of Dumps suggests happiness through keeping cheerful.

Once upon a time there was a queer little elf named Dumps who lived all by himself in a dark little house down in a valley. Ever since he could remember, things had gone wrong with him.

He shivered in the cold and kicked the coal bucket when the fire wouldn't burn. He howled when he stumbled over his own dinner pots that he had left sitting in the middle of the floor, and he stood in his front door and scowled when the other happy elves went by, without speaking to him.

He and his family had lived like that for years. When any elf wanted to describe something very sad he would say it was "Down in the Dumps," and so Dumps went on without a single happy day.

But the elves decided, suddenly, to give a party. Oh, it was going to be a very jolly party indeed, and Dumps heard about it. Almost every elf who passed was whistling, or singing something cheerful. And some of them were carrying their best green suits to the Wood Fairy's house to be pressed. And when Dumps heard about the party, he cried so loudly because he knew that he wouldn't be invited that the Wood Fairy heard him. The noise disturbed her so much that she went right down to Dumps' house to see what was the matter with him now.

"Tell me all about it from the beginning, my dear," she asked little Dumps.

"I can't see the sunshine," Dumps howled.

"Of course you can't," said the Wood Fairy. "Your windows are dirty. Get some nice spring water in your little pail and wash them."

Dumps had never thought of doing that. When he washed the windows the sunbeams streamed in like a golden ladder.

"Is there something else the matter?" the Wood Fairy asked.

"My fire won't burn, even though I kick the coal bucket every day," Dumps sobbed.

"Well, do try blowing the fire," the Wood Fairy suggested.

Dumps had never thought of doing that. His bellows were stiff, but he blew them very hard and, crackle, there was a nice bright fire and his tea kettle began to sing.

"Is that all?" asked the Wood Fairy.

"Oh, no!" Dumps sighed. "The other elves are giving a party and I am not invited."

"It is for all the elves and you don't have to be invited," the Wood Fairy said. "Stand up straight and let me brush your suit. Now run along my dear."

So Dumps started up the hill to the party, laughing all the way for he just couldn't stop. You see he had so many years of being one of the Dumps to make up for. He laughed until all his wrinkles were gone and he was puffed out with happiness. He started bees buzzing and grasshoppers fiddling and crickets chirping, and a whole crowd of yellow butterflies flew along with him.

"Who can this new, fat, cheerful elf be?" asked all the other elves as Dumps arrived at the party turning a double somersault into their midst. "We are all here except Dumps, and of course this isn't he?"

Then Dumps showed them how he could turn back somersaults and make a see-saw out of a rush leaf. He taught them how to play baseball with white clover heads, and how to make a swing of braided grasses. He surprised himself with all the good time he was able to think up.

"Of course, this isn't Dumps," the other elves decided. "His name must be Delight," and Dumps never told them their mistake, for it wasn't really a mistake at all. Now, was it?

Lamb and Mutton

The difference of a few cents in the cost of a pound of meat frequently determines whether that meat appears on the table in many households. Yet that difference of a few cents just as frequently is caused by the limited knowledge of the housewife or the meat which she desires.

Take the cost of mutton and lamb; it is regarded as high. But the average housewife who so regards it speaks only in terms of chops and hind-quarters. The fore-quarter of mutton is just as dainty, just as full of flavor, just as eatable in every way if it is properly prepared. It also is many cents cheaper per pound.

Your butcher, if he is up-to-date, knows how to bone and roll a shoulder of lamb or mutton so that it may be cut into Saratoga chops or made into a roast of unusual sweetness.

Breeders of sheep have paid more attention to raising a better flavored meat in the last few years, and their efforts show clearly in the resulting product.

Some objectors to lamb and mutton say that they cannot eat it because of the "woolly taste," and that they know of no way to remove it. That is merely a case of pulling the wool over your own eyes. If the fell, or tough outer membrane that covers the meat, is removed, there will be no "woolly taste."

You are taking no chances when you order lamb. The healthfulness and strength-building qualities of this meat have long been recognized by physicians, who have prescribed its extensive use in the diet of convalescents.

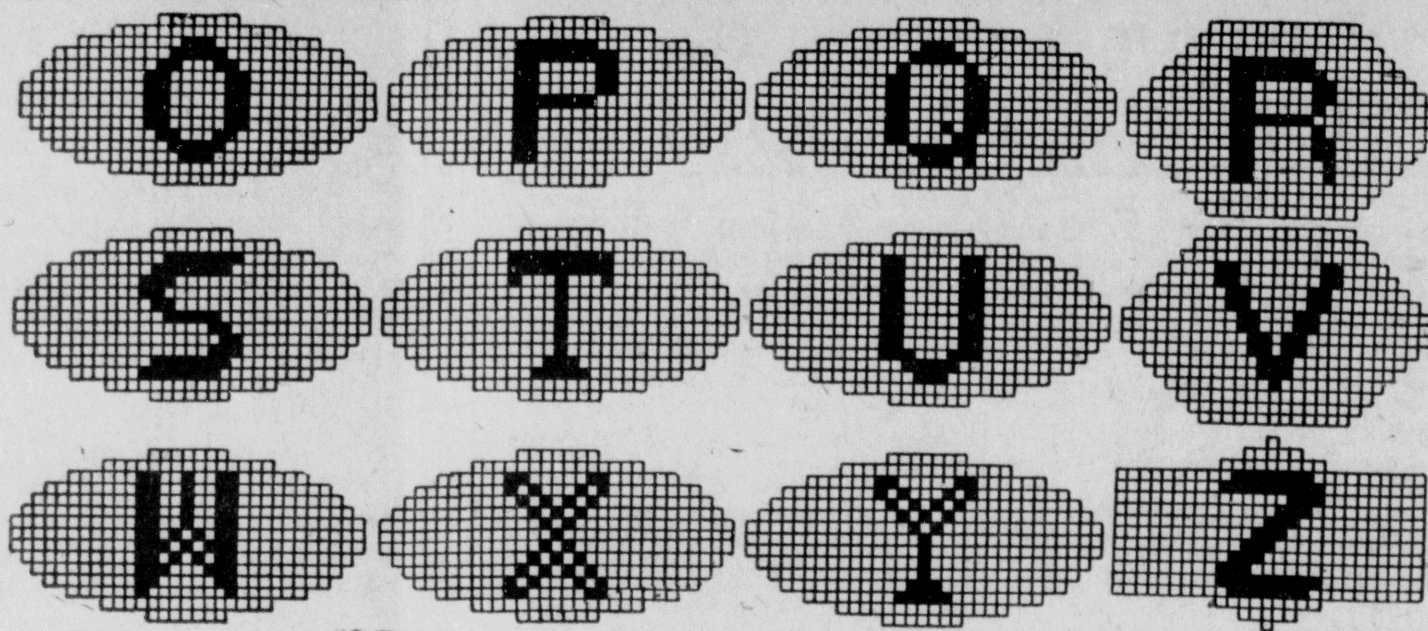

These facts are worthy of your studied consideration. They have long had that from the New England housewife, as is attested by her continued buying.

When cream will not whip add the white of an egg to it. Let both cream and egg be thoroughly chilled. Then try again and it will whip easily.

To dry lettuce, pat it with crumpled paper toweling. It absorbs water quickly and does not bruise the leaves. Lettuce for salad should be well dried and cold.

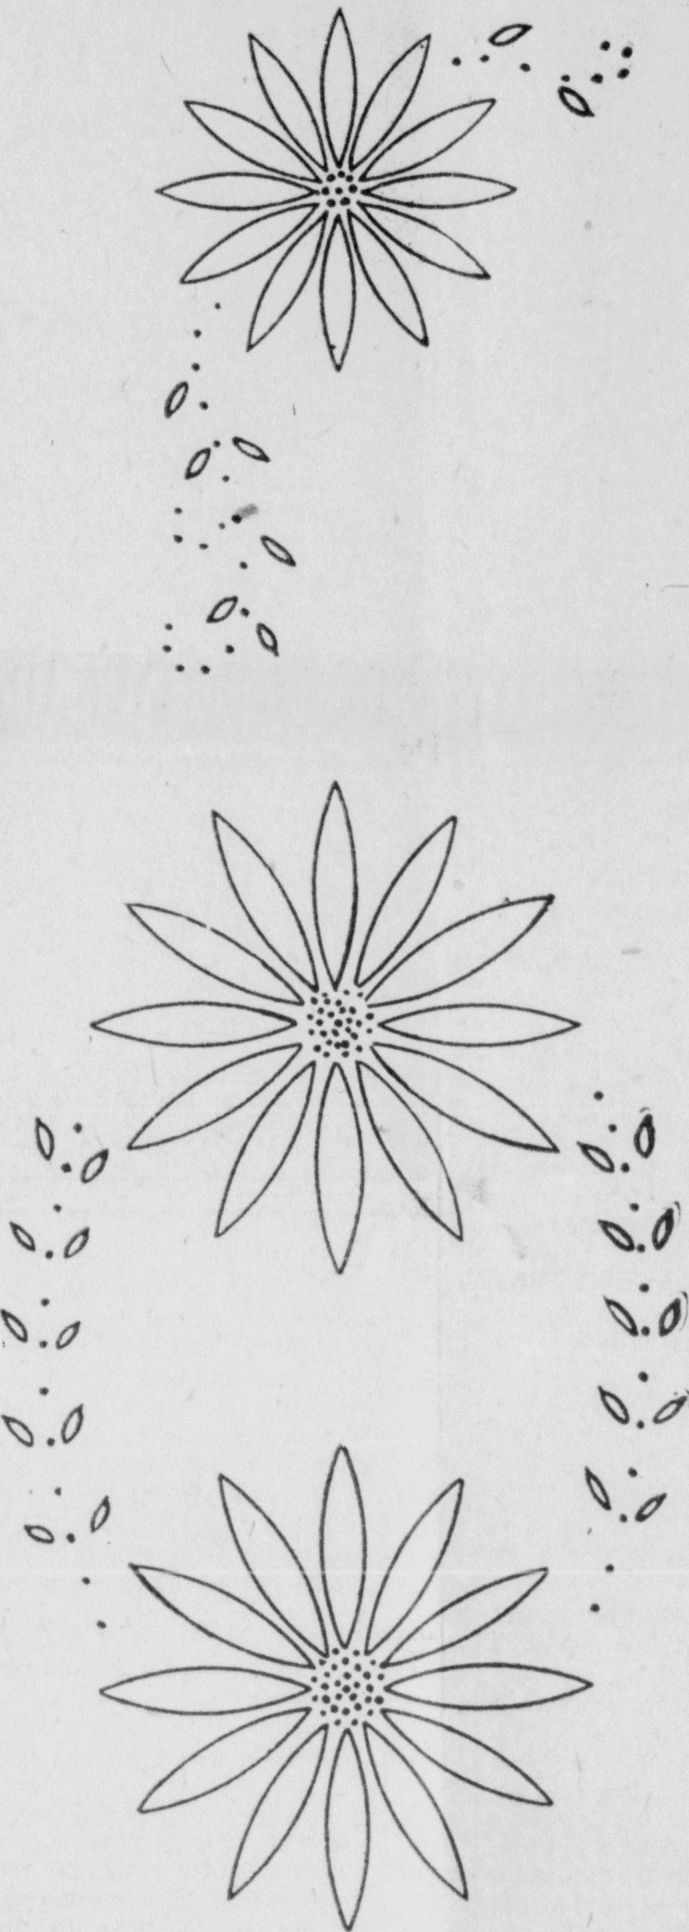

If soup is too salty add slices of raw potatoes and boil a few minutes, remove them, and if soup is still too salty, repeat the process.

places where an impenetrable barrier is desired. The long, stout thorns on this plant offer perfect protection from man or beast.

All of the trees, so far mentioned, flower very early in the season. Among those which bloom a little later, Laburnum vulgare is the most interesting. This is the small tree, often called the golden chain, because of the peculiar form taken by its drooping golden blossoms. Handsome and unusual in appearance as this tree is, it cannot be commonly recommended for very cold sections. The so-called Scotch Laburnum is much hardier. It is the handsomest yellow-flowered tree which can be grown successfully in the climate of New England. This Laburnum is very common in European gardens, and visitors from across the water wonder why it is not seen more often in America. It is a flowering tree, which deserves wider cultivation.

Then there are the tree lilacs, which flower in late June or July. They cannot be depended upon with certainty to bloom every season, but, when in flower, they are exceedingly handsome. Perhaps the finest of the tree lilacs is the variety called Japonica which produces symmetrical flower clusters from 12 to 18 inches long. All the tree lilacs have white or yellowish white flowers, and these flowers are not sweet like those of the common bush lilac, but have a rather disagreeable odor resembling that of privet blooms.

Of course, the list of flowering trees might be extended, but those named are among the most desirable for a modest garden or for the grounds of a large estate.

If you have discovered how to do something just a little bit better than someone else, or have a recipe which you think is better than others, send it to us. Or if you want a recipe ask for it through this column.

Flowering Trees For The Home Grounds

It is no longer customary to dot the lawn with specimen trees and shrubs, as in former days. The fact is realized that the landscape picture is best created by leaving the center of the grounds open and by massing the planting around the borders, making it serve as a living frame. At the same time, the planting of an occasional specimen, if of the right sort, is permissible, and frequently low growing flowering trees can be used in groups to excellent advantage. It is rather surprising that the value of these flowering trees has not been more fully realized in the United States.

Spring visitors to the Arnold Arboretum, near Boston, have often been surprised at the wealth of bloom presented by the flowering cherries, crab apples, plums, hawthorns, and dogwoods. One flowering crab apple is frequently seen in American gardens. It is the variety called Bechtel's crab, really one of the handsomest trees that grows. The double pink flowers are produced about the first of June in the latitude of New England, and are borne in wonderful profusion. Another very handsome variety, although one less commonly seen, is Parkman's crab. This tree does not naturally grow so tall, but it has a spreading habit, so that it needs considerable room. The carmine-colored, semi-double blossoms are borne on pendulous stems, creating an effect not easily surpassed. Where there is not space enough for these trees, a dwarfed variety like Sargent's crab can be used. This is no more than a shrub, but, when in full bloom, it looks like a mammoth bouquet.

The flowering cherries come very early in the spring, and are valued for that reason. Everybody has read about the popularity of the cherries in Japan, and there seems to be an impression that the cherry shows of that country cannot be reproduced. The truth is, though, that practically every cherry which will flower in Japan will grow just as well in the United States. Several varieties are being put out by American nurserymen, and are well worth getting acquainted with.

Hawthorns would deserve a place on the home grounds because of their fall fruit, even if their flowers had no beauty. As it is, they are especially valuable for they make a handsome display of bloom in the spring, and carry their bright colored fruit for weeks and even months at the end of the year. All the American hawthorns have white flowers, although most of the blossoms have delicately colored stamens. The pink hawthorns are English importations. One or two Chinese thorns have been introduced, but they, like the American varieties, are white. Among the good hawthorns, which can be bought from nurserymen, are the Washington thorn, the Cockspur thorn, and Carriere's thorn. The Cockspur thorn is sometimes used for a hedge, in

Calico's Popularity

Last summer saw the gingham frock claim its place in the sun. One of the more imaginative designers saw its possibilities for something other than children's dresses and women's house gowns, and it was brought from its seclusion to be fashioned into charming sportclothes and one-piece frocks. The wide plaids and checks won an immediate popularity, possibly because they recalled for all of us the crisp starchiness of our first school days.

This season, gingham is being used as extensively as last, but it is no longer the "something new" in summer fabrics. That place is now held by the simplest and least pretentious of all materials—the old fashioned figured calico.

It was introduced a little tentatively early in the year, but a feminine world, earnestly practicing simplicity and war-time economy, hailed it with delight. All of the better stores are now featuring it, and calico is enjoying the prominence of the best display counters, instead of the isolation of unused shelves.

Calico has been most successful, when combined with plain white materials. The tiny figured designs require contrast, and this is best achieved in collars, cuffs and sashes of white pique or linen. Batiste and organdie are equally attractive, but hardly so practical.

Many of the calico prints come in plaids, but these are less distinctive than the dark-grounded patterns, dotted over with small flowers. Hats of self material are worn with these frocks, but rough straws are especially appropriate if trimmed only in braid or yarn. Simplicity must be rigorously adhered to, whenever this material is chosen.

Calico's popularity has not been confined to its use for dressmaking. Decorators have been quick to see its availability for upholstery. Possibly the scarcity of good designs in cretonne may have quickened their interest, but the results have been successful. Wicker and painted furniture lend themselves most delightfully to calico "treatment." The quaint little figures are rather a relief after the bizarre and decorative effects with which many of the cretonnes have surfeited us. The amateur carpenter and decorator will find herself desiring promptly to paint and upholster some old disused chair, when she sees these fascinating new-old calico prints.

In placing dishes on ice place a rubber ring from a fruit jar under the dish. The ring will adhere to both the ice and the dish.

In boiling corned beef, add a small onion, a pinch of ginger, a few cloves and a bay leaf. This will improve the flavor of the beef.

If syrup goes back to sugar, re-heat, add a small piece of butter and it will be useful as a soft sugar.

AT APEX OF SPRING STYLES

The return to favor of ostrich plumes, handsome feather ornaments, and masses of rich flowers, with much elaboration in millinery, places hats for matrons at the apex of spring styles. The three hats shown above include a dress hat with rich ostrich plumes, a smart street hat with a velvet bow, and semi-dress hat in black, with a wonderful feather.

VESTS LEND CHARM TO SUITS

Waistcoats are an important factor in spring styles and this suit bears testimony in their favor. It is plain that the coat needs the smart little garment of heavy white silk that bears its company and lends it additional charm. The skirt is of regulation ankle length and narrows toward the hem. It is split at the side over a set-in piece and has two buttons and two indicated buttonholes by way of adornment. The new waistcoats or vests are made of many different materials and in many patterns. They will become sheer as summer advances.

HINES TO DECIDE STREET QUESTION

and previous councils innumerable times. The former council discussed the matter for two or three years but before it went out of office it acted favorably upon a petition for the extension, received the assessment roll of benefits and damages and looked after all the other formalities in connection with the opening of the street.

Practically the only remonstrance that was filed against the proposed extension came from the Chicago, Terre Haute & Southeastern Line which is affected to the extent of several hundred dollars in the way of benefits. The railroad company sent its general attorney here on several occasions to fight the case but in due time the formalities were completed. The previous council then went out of office.

When the present council was organized, Elnora street appeared again and the action of the previous council was ratified and a few more formalities were completed. The declaratory resolution was adopted, the assessment of benefits and damages was passed and all details were looked after with the exception of moving back the fences which would mark the location of the new street. Part of the proceedings were taken when the Southeastern Line was conducted as a private corporation and part of the action came after the road was taken over by the government and that results in the present confusion.

At a recent meeting the matter was referred to John M. Lewis, city attorney and at the session Wednesday night he stated that the status of the railroads is an unknown quantity. He said that he had taken the matter up with the railroad administration and expected an answer in the near future. Under the present conditions, however, the administration has told the public that it does not want to be bothered with local affairs. The matter of getting service on the company may be difficult, Judge Lewis stated, and the letter may be delayed while it goes through the long channels of "red tape."

Meanwhile the residents who want Elnora street extended will have to wait patiently until the director-general of railroads gives the matter his attention. It is admitted that if the railroad administration does not want the fences moved back it can temporarily tie up the work.

TRUSTEES DO NOT LIKE THE CHANGE

had supervision over township roads and have had the funds in their possession. The county unit law which was enacted by the last legislature, provides that all road funds shall be placed under the supervision of the county commissioners who shall appoint supervisors for the township roads.

Gilbert Hendren, chief examiner of the state board of accounts, has sent a letter to the trustees in which he advises them to serve as supervisors if the commissioners elect to appoint them. The trustees are not anxious to serve in that capacity and work under the highway superintendent. The reason for their reluctance is that they cannot receive any additional compensation for the work as their salaries are fixed and they are not permitted to draw extra compensation.

A trustee in Owen county wrote a letter to Hendren in which he stated that the trustees of the state are glad that the road roads were enacted for all they will have to do during the summer is to draw their salaries. Hendren, however, advises the trustees to go slow in taking this attitude. It is pointed out that when the salaries for the trustees were fixed by a law which was suggested by Hendren, the trustees had control of the roads and even if they are appointed as supervisors they will not have additional duties to perform. The only difference will be that they will not have charge of the road funds.

The commissioners in this county have delayed final action relative to township road maintenance until the confusion in the laws is cleared away. The trustees declare that they will not serve as supervisors unless they are compelled to do so as they do not believe that the legislature ever intended to take the roads out of their hands.

A question has been raised as to what the commissioners will do in case the trustees refuse to look after the roads. The highways are placed under the direction of the county highway superintendent and it is probable that he may require his assistants to take over the repair of unimproved roads.

Hendren holds that the trustees cannot be compelled to look after the roads but adds "that they had better want to." "Their salaries were increased two years ago when the township road supervisor law was abolished," he said, "and the duties of looking after the roads turned over to them. Their salaries were increased to provide for the extra duties in connection with the road. There is a moral obligation there if not a legal one and if they refuse to look after the roads the legislature two years from now will probably take care of them by reducing their salaries."

BAPTIST VICTORY CAMPAIGN

Superintendent Says Indiana is Responding Splendidly.

The first goal of the Victory Campaign of the Baptist churches of Indiana has been reached. More than $105,000 has been given by the churches of this state during the past twelve months. The second goal must be reached by May first. This will be the raising of $95,000, by personal gifts. These gifts must be over and above all that is being given through the local churches. The First Church, Indianapolis, has pledged twelve thousand dollars; the Bluffton Church more than three thousand dollars. $15,000 is already in the office, though no pledges have as yet been asked for.

The $550,000 that was needed to secure the gift of $200,000 by a prominent Baptist, was all subscribed. This means that the second million, known as the Morehouse Memorial Million, has been added to the Endowment Fund of Ministers and Missionaries Benefit Fund.

Carlos M. Dinsmore, the State Director, with offices in the Occidental Building, Indianapolis, said:

"The Baptist churches of Indiana have never made such a splendid response to the missionary appeal as they have made during the past two months. Under the leadership of our fine pastors, our churches are making marked progress along all lines. We are meeting the challenge of our times in a most encouraging manner."

The grand jury of the Lawrence county circuit court after a session of two and a half days has returned fifty-one indictments. They reported other matters for investigation to Judge Cox and were ordered to continue their session.

Fred Bacon transacted business in Franklin and Edinburg today in the interest of the Methodist Centenary Movement.

"It's All Off With This Fierce Corn Now—'Gets-It' Is Magic."

if you will just touch the corn or callus with a few drops of 'Gets-It.' What a blessed relief it gives to corn pains! You won't limp any more, you can enjoy the dance every minute. Then to see how that corn or callus will come right off complete, like a banana peel and without the least pain, is just wonderful. 'Gets-It' is the biggest seller among corn removers in the world today, simply because it is so wonderfully simple and always works. Be sure you get 'Gets-It.' 'Gets-It,' the guaranteed, money-back corn-remover, the only sure way, costs but a trifle at any drug store. Mfg'd by E. Lawrence & Co., Chicago, Ill. Sold in Seymour and recommended as the world's best corn remedy by C. E. Leertz and Wm. L. Federmann.

HEAVY DEATH TOLL IN TEXAS CYCLONE

dropped last night with snows reported in several districts.

According to dispatches from all parts of the storm stricken districts today, thousands are homeless. In many districts, physicians were reported unable to care for all the injured; hospital facilities are lacking and medical supplies were badly needed.

Churches, city buildings and school houses were fitted out as temporary hospitals. Three separate storms covered a wide area, stretching from North Central Texas into Arkansas. At Texarkana, Kan., one house was blown several yards. A body was found in a tree. Near Walters, Okla., two men were blown into a water tank and spent several hours there.

Communication lines were hopelessly out of action in the hardest hit rural districts. Overland travel was hampered by mud. Because of these conditions it was believed complete reports of casualties will not be available for several days.

The death list was expected to exceed 100 with the injuries over 600. Conservative estimates of property damage place it at over $1,000,000.
